

CITY SELLS LOT TO FIRE COMPANY AND RECEIVES TAX LIST

Special Committees Sell Washington Opera House Property — City's Taxes Will Be Approximately $100,000.

At the regular semi-monthly meeting of City Council held Thursday evening the joint committee representing the city and the Washington Fire Company reported an agreement whereby the city sells to the fire company their rights in the lot upon which the Washington theater is built and council immediately approved the agreement and ordered the sale made.

By the terms of the agreement the fire company pays the city $10,000 cash for the lot, pays the brick street assessment against the property and gives the city free rent for the fire department until 1934, the date when the present lease on the property expires. In addition the fire company will pay taxes on the property after the transfer is made and pay the usual city license for the operation of the show house.

This agreement was reached by Messrs. E. T. Kirk, J. M. Collins and C. C. Dobyns, representing the city, and Messrs. W. H. Cox, H. J. Cochran and A. O. Sulser, representing the fire company.

City Clerk H. B. Adair presented the tax duplicate to council which, exclusive of railroad and franchise tax, which assessment has not yet been certified, is as follows:

Real and personal property $78,866.66
Banks 9,287.24
Tobacco 463.82
Poll Tax 1,220.00

Total $89,837.72
With the railroad and franchise taxes added to this total, the city's income from taxes will approximate $100,000.

Council granted the usual fifteen day vacation to members of the police and fire departments.

An ordinance was offered amending the taxing ordinance which strikes the word "male" from the poll tax levy, making the poll tax levy apply to all voters, both male and female. This means that women voters will be required to pay the city the same poll tax as is paid by male voters.

Mr. W. Houston Hall will lend the city sufficient funds, without interest, to build a sewer in the rear of his new property on the old ball park site.

CLAIMS RUGGLES IS MENTALLY UNBALANCED.

The Vanceburg Sun Says: The Sun is in receipt of a letter from B. G. Ruggles of Epworth stating that his brother, Leslie, who had the shooting scrape with Deputy Sheriff Smith McGill and Constable Keith last week and who was seriously wounded, was not mentally all right. He states that his brother was discharged from the service at Portsmouth, Va., because of his mental condition as noted on his discharge papers. If this be so he merits the community's sympathy and not censure and should be placed in one of the state's institutions as his conduct at large is extremely dangerous to others no less than himself.

DISTILLERY MAY BE SEIZED AND ALL LIQUOR SOLD

Complete Inventory of Old '76 Distillery Made by Prohibition Officers — Rock Filled Cases Held As Evidence.

Newport, Ky., June 2. — Prohibition agents, in charge of Lucian A. Burnam, were engaged yesterday in making an inventory of the whiskey stored in the Old '76 Distillery, outside of Newport, on the Licking pike. Wednesday night 1,100 whiskey cases, supposed to contain bottled whiskey, were found by prohibition agents. The cases were filled with rocks to bring them up to weight.

The Kentucky state prohibition office at Louisville, acting on orders of David H. Blair, prohibition official at Washington, probably will seize the free warehouse of the distillery and sell the liquor stored therein to persons holding whiskey permits. Mr. Burnam said yesterday.

In addition to the whiskey cases filled with rocks, prohibition agents, according to Mr. Burnam, found that 100 cases of whiskey had been taken from the warehouse.

The first indication that whiskey had been taken from the free warehouse of the Old '76 Distillery was received by prohibition agents in letters sent them by persons living near the distillery. It was disclosed yesterday.

It is said that further arrests will be made. The rock-filled cases will be used as evidence in the trial of Samuel Freedman, President of the distillery company; Max Morris and Arthur Johnson, officials of the company; Charles G. Fisher and a brother, composing the moving van firm of Fisher Bros., Mr. Burnam said. These men were indicted by the Federal grand jury at Covington on a charge of conspiracy to violate the liquor laws.

The 1,100 cases of whiskey were taken from the warehouse through a little door in the rear wall. Mr. Burnam believes. This door opens on a culvert running to the rear of the Fisher Bros. storage house. High above the culvert on a hill is a ten-story warehouse belonging to the distillery company.

BODY OF DROWNED BOY RECOVERED LATE THURSDAY

Searchers Had Spent Their Time Too Far Down Stream—Four Drags Brings Body to the Surface.

The body of Jack Bolling, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bolling, of East Second street, who was drowned in the Ohio River above Beechwood Park Wednesday afternoon by his brother-in-law, Mr. George Vogel, and other searchers.

Playmates of Jack Bolling, who were in bathing with him when he drowned had misinformed the searchers, through error, as to the exact spot where the boy sank. There were two clumps of willows within short distance of each other and the playmates had pointed out the lower clump.

When about to give up the search as futile late Thursday, Mr. Vogel and the other searchers, decided to drag farther up stream than they had been dragging and on the fourth drag near the more easterly clump of willows, they brought the body to the surface.

Funeral will be held Saturday morning and burial will be in the Maysville cemetery.

RUGGLES REMOVED TO BOYD COUNTY JAIL LAST NIGHT

Wounded Prisoner, Who Has Been Kept Under Guard at Local Hospital Is Removed to Catlettsburg Jail Thursday Night.

Leslie Ruggles, who was wounded by Deputy Sheriff Smith McGill, of Lewis county, in a gun battle at Epworth several days ago and who, since the shooting, has been a patient at Hayswood Hospital, having escaped the officers, was removed from the local hospital Thursday evening and taken to Catlettsburg where he will be confined in the Boyd county jail. The young man was turned over to Sheriff Frank Lykins, of Lewis county, by Sheriff C. M. Devore, of Mason county.

Since Ruggles was located at the local hospital, representatives of the sheriff's office have kept a constant guard on his room at the hospital to prevent escape.

Ruggles was shot twice in the left arm. One of the bullets from the officer's gun shattered the bone and for several days physicians attending him advised against his removal from the hospital by the officers. There are three separate charges against Ruggles and Judge Halbert, of the Lewis Circuit Court, offered him bail in $5,000 on each offense or a total of $15,000 which he has been unable to furnish.

IMPORTANT MEETING TO BE HELD THIS EVENING

All Residents Interested In Proposed Change In Fire Insurance Rates to Meet at Council Chamber.

All who are interested in maintaining the present fire insurance rates in the city of Maysville are asked to meet with the local fire insurance agents and the representatives of the Kentucky Actuary Bureau at the City Council Chamber Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

This meeting is called for the purpose of explaining to the fire insurance policy holders of Maysville the necessity for a re-rating of the city which is in progress at this time.

The chief reason for the proposed increase in most of the rates in the city is the failure of the Maysville Water Company to have a duplicate or relief system of pumps and this will be thoroughly explained by experts at Friday's meeting. Because of the important nature of the meeting, it is expected that there will be many in attendance.

HOME ONLY WAREHOUSE NOW HOLDING OUT.

In a story of the sale of tobacco warehouses in this section to the Burley Co-operative Association, the Augusta Chronicle says in part:

Mr. Barker also stated that the only trouble he has had up to date in arriving at satisfactory prices with the warehouse owners was the owners of the Home at Maysville, J. N. Kehoe, representing the owners, asks $165,000 while Mr. Barker says that $110,000 is the right price, figured the same as other warehouses over the district.

J. K. Brubaker, of Forest avenue, who recently underwent a surgical operation, is in a very critical condition.

BRANDS OSER AS FORTUNE HUNTER IN FAMOUS FIGHT

Swiss Riding Master Is Branded as Searcher for McCormick Millions by His Chicago Cousin Who Joins Girl's Mother.

Chicago, June 2. — Max Oser was branded as a fortune hunter today by Emil Burge, his Chicago cousin.

Burge entered the fight with Edith Rockefeller McCormick against the marriage of Mathilde McCormick, 17-year-old granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, to Oser, Swiss stableman.

"It isn't Mathilde he wants, but a life of ease during his declining years," Burge charged.

Cousin Emil said he was ready to aid Mrs. McCormick in the battle in Probate Court she has waged on her divorced husband, Harold F. McCormick, Mathilde's guardian, who favors the marriage.

"If she's looking for evidence to induce the court to restrain McCormick from allowing the marriage of Max and Mathilde, I'll give her plenty," he said.

"Max is worth about $10,000, which isn't enough to make him comfortable during the rest of his life. He wouldn't have that much if he hadn't overcharged American tourists.

"Let Mathilde's relatives cut off her inheritance and allowance, and see how much longer Max loves her."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "The Harding administration would have stultified itself had it accepted the invitation of the allied governments to attend the forthcoming conference at The Hague," declares the Republican Publicity Association. "No phase of the foreign policy of the United States in the past year has been clearer than that relating to Europe in general and to Russia in particular. It has been repeated on numerous occasions by President Harding and Secretary Hughes, until every citizen of our own country who reads is familiar with it and every foreigner who cares to inform himself has made its acquaintance.

"President Harding had been in the White House little more than a month when the State Department declared its position toward Russia. It was plainly stated that the United States could have no official intercourse with the Russians until productivity had been made secure in that country, thereby establishing suitable bases of credit. There has been no deviation from that policy and that is where the United States stands today.

"When the Genoa conference was called it became apparent that the Russian question would be the paramount subject of discussion; in other words, that the conference would be political rather than economic. The United States declined to participate in those deliberations for that reason. The soundness of that position was strikingly emphasized when it was disclosed at the conference that a secret treaty had been made between Germany and Russia tending to set it naught any efforts the allies might make for a general understanding in Europe. The willingness of this country to contribute to the economic welfare of Europe has been demonstrated on occasions too numerous to mention, but it is no true American who would wish to see his country involved in political bickerings such as featured the Genoa meeting.

"With their year-old policy toward Russia and the revelations of the Genoa conference before them, President Harding and Secretary Hughes did not hesitate in framing their reply to the allied invitation to The Hague meeting. It was unequivocal 'No,' coupled with a reiteration of the American attitude regarding Russia. It is true that the United States indicated a willingness to join the allied governments in arranging for an inquiry by experts into the economic situation in Russia and the necessary remedies. But of course participation in such an inquiry is totally different from representation in The Hague parleys. The one would be merely to assemble facts, while the other will be an attempt to act upon such information as may be at hand.

"Consistency is one of the prime virtues of the present national administration. Every voter in the country knows just where President Harding stands today upon any subject upon which he has made a statement in the past. Anyone who read Secretary Hughes' pronouncement as to Russia, or his declaration to attend the Genoa conference, would have known without reading it the tenor of his reply to The Hague invitation. Nothing contributed so much to Mr. Wilson's loss of prestige in Paris as his constant wobbling to fit the changing situation, and nothing is aiding so much in winning back the respect of Europe as the unwavering international policies of the Republican Administration."

KANSAS PRISONERS

MANUFACTURE TWINE.

Topeka, Kan. — The Kansas penitentiary twine plant is manufacturing blinder twine cheaper than any other penal institution in the United States at the present time, according to Ernest Underwood, member of the state board of administration.

More than eighty prisoners labor in the workshop of the institution, and approximately 2,600,000 pounds of the twine have been turned out this year. All of it has been sold. Before the harvest is over the plant will have turned out nearly 3,000,000 pounds for the year.

WELLAND FACES ABOUT

ON DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Welland, Ont. — Welland has done something in the course of a few weeks, which as yet no other town in Ontario has done.

After trying out daylight saving for three weeks, the city council has decided to revert back to standard time. The same aldermen who so blithely voted daylight savings into existence for another year were the ones who were leaders in the agitation to have it discontinued.

One man presented a petition signed by nearly 700 people asking that the clock be shoved back. Mayor James Hughes, who has always been opposed to the new time is gratified at this turn of events.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — There is one corner of New York where all India meets some time or other. It is a little Hindoo restaurant around the corner from Times Square, and it is the one true gathering place of all East Indians in New York City. Laborers, bankers, students, whose castes would keep them apart in any other place in this country, as in their own, make that restaurant a common meeting place. East Indian men, of every shade of complexion from pale gold to deep brown, of every build from the slender lines of the delicately reared aristocrat to the heavy-shouldered dock worker — but no East Indian women. That seems peculiar at first but the answer is quite simple—there are none here. None in New York, except an occasional visiting lecturer and only a few in the whole country. A few intellectual American women who have some East Indian bent to their thoughts, dine at the little restaurant, a few who find the place romantic, and a few who really like the East Indian food. But most of the diners are men.

From exploring the lofty, snow-clad peaks of the Northern Canadian Rockies, and traveling through the primitive settlements of the Gitksan and Carrier Indians, to establishing and conducting a girls' camp, seems like a drop into monotony. But Mary L. Jobe, A. M., P. R. G. S., member of the American Alpine Club, Alpine Club of Canada, the Club Alpin Francaise and possessor of many other such distinctions, insists that there is no lack of intense interest about a girls' camp at any time. Knowing so intimately the charm and grandeur of the natural world, Miss Jobe longed to encourage the love of it in the young people about her, and Camp Mystic, near the village of Mystic, on the Connecticut shore, is the result. Miss Jobe does not expect to make Alpine climbers and explorers out of the girls but she is convinced that they will be strong, well, and appreciative of out-of-door sports by the end of a season at Camp Mystic. About eighty girls will gather there from all parts of the country this summer. Miss Jobe mapped out and explored a hitherto unexplored, glaciated mountain which was known only as the predominant northernmost peak in the Canadian Rockies one year, and has a whole series of such accomplishments to her credit. The girls at Camp Mystic are particularly proud of their swimming records, which are all according to the official Red Cross tests and in which they have made remarkable showing. Miss Jobe is a graduate of Bryn Mawr College.

William Tiefenworth declares that he cannot struggle along on the 75 cents a week, which his wife has been giving him as his allowance. For five years, he has been handed over his pay envelope each Saturday. Just as regularly, his wife handed him back 75 cents and he was told "it had to do" for five years. Mr. Tiefenworth allowed the system to go unopposed, but when she left him a month ago because he asked her to sew on a button, he decided he wasn't being treated right. So he has signed for divorce, across the river in Jersey.

There will certainly be a monument raised at some time to one John Swanson, Jersey City Landlord. He has bought and remodeled an apartment house, in which apartments can be taken ONLY by families with children. One child is a passport but more entitled the parents to greater consideration. Mr. Swanson has even gone so far as to offer $50 for the first girl baby born in the house, and $100 for the first boy. With 35 families having leased apartments in the building, and with one child, at least, in each family, and in most of them, several, the perambulator question was serious. The halls were packed with them the first week. So Mr. Swanson took over the house next door and made it into a perambulator garage and playroom.

DETROIT NOW CITY OF OVER MILLION.

Detroit, — Detroit's population officially has passed the one million mark as the result of annexation of the village of Oakwood, with its 8,000 persons.

Added to the 993,319 persons shown by the last Federal census to be resident in Detroit, the fourth city in the country has attained the goal it set out to reach a decade ago, when it began to make the record of the fastest growing large city in America.

Incorporation of Oakwood as a part of Detroit was accomplished only after a bitter fight extending over a period of six months. Oakwood voters last November asked that they be "adopted." The village officials, however, refused to turn over the tax rolls and court litigation ensued. The matter has just been settled by surrender on the part of Oakwood officials, who have complied with the demands of Detroit's city council.

OH! MY BACK!

The Expression of Many a Kidney Sufferer in Maysville.

A stubborn headache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Ask your neighbors. Here's Maysville proof:

Mrs. H. Jones, 702 East Second street, says: "I well know the value of Doan's Kidney Pills, having used them for disordered kidneys and backache and they cured me of the complaint. My back had been giving me trouble for some time. There was a dull, nagging pain across the center of my back just over my kidneys. Many a day I had to let my housework go undone as I was feeling so miserable. I had pains in the back of my head and my kidneys weren't acting regularly. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family successfully I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got three boxes. After using them I was all right. I am glad to recommend Doan's."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jones had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SCHOOL TEACHER'S HEARING IS AGAIN POSTPONED.

The preliminary hearing of Thomas Schree, Jr., the Bracht Station school teacher, charged with murder in connection with the death of Zelma Clemens, which was to have been held before Judge Read in the County Court at Covington, was continued Thursday until June 9.

The continuance was asked by the prosecution because the Kenton county grand jury Thursday began an investigation of the case. It is thought if the jury finds an indictment the preliminary trial will not be held.

FLICKER OF AN EYELASH, MAN ESCAPES MORGUE.

Detroit. — The flicker of an eyelash changed E. M. Sarheim's destination from the morgue to a receiving hospital when Deputy Coroner Conley called for the body of the supposed suicide. Emergency measures taken by the hospital resulted in his recovery.

Sarheim slashed his throat with a razor in a fit of despondency and was reported dead. After ordering a slab the morgue prepared for the body, Conley responded to the call with a coffin. He was about to deposit Sarheim in the coffin when a slight quivering on the man's eyelash indicated that he was not dead.

FORGED WHISKY CERTIFICATES.

Alleged flooding of banks with forged whisky certificates is being probed by Federal authorities.

The certificates, according to Cleveland dispatches, have been placed as collateral in banks in various cities. They are supposed to represent whisky stored in warehouses, but are worthless in reality.

Circulation of the forgeries is said to have been carried on on a huge scale, most of the forgeries apparently coming from a single source.

Cities in which banks have been used largely, according to dispatches, are New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and Louisville.

KENTUCKY'S SOLDIER DEAD.

They crossed the troubled, war swept sea
But not for earthly gain.
They went to comfort the oppressed
And hush the cry of pain.

Knowing the way was strewn with thorns—
No beds of roses met their gaze—
Yet firmly grasping sword and shield
They marched through bloody ways.

Turning the glorious eyes of youth away
From home-ties, love and song,
To fight the foe and conquer that which comes
Or tyranny and wrong.

And now they sleep—that dreamless sleep—
Kentucky's noble men,
Slumbering 'til God and angels come
To bid them rise again.

CARDINALS WIN FROM CYNTHIANA IN A REAL BALL GAME

Harrison County Club Shows Wonderful Strength — Score is 3 to 0 With Both Teams Playing Every Minute.

A real game was on the program at east end park Thursday when the Cardinals defeated the Cynthiana aggregation in the fastest and most sensational contest ever witnessed on a local diamond. Not only was it a pitcher's contest but also a struggle between respective players on each team and as a result spectacular plays occurred galore and not an error ensued to mar the game the perfect work on each side. Long, a lanky hurler with plenty of speed occupied the mound for the visitors and opposed Manager Bosken and for seven full innings he was a puzzle to the extent of two hits but his speed was checked in the eighth when he was nicked for three hits and two runs. Bosken kept his hits well scattered and allowed but one to an inning with the exception of the seventh when two singles gained nothing. Bosk, however, was in the hole quite a few times and superb defense brought him out each time. It would be an injustice to the team to name the star or stars without naming the entire line-up, so hard did each individual work.

It was purely another case of platoon ordinary baseball vs. scientific baseball as shown in the seventh when the Cardinals showed over a run without a hit and not even being aided by an error. Connolly walked, Slayback sacrificed and Tony pulled up at third. Kresser sent a long fly to center for the first marker. Two more followed in the eighth. Margerum singled through short and took second when Bosken bounced a hot one off Long's glove but Seltz relayed the ball to first for the out. Dresel's hit to right took a bad hop and he arrived at third after Margerum crossed the platter. Fortner laid down a bunt and on the play at first Dresel scored for the third run.

It was very noticeable both on the field and in the grand stand, the good sportsmanship displayed by both players and followers of each club, as the visitors had quite a crowd of backers in the stand. One play that will bear this out took place when Harding fielded a grounder some distance from first base and seeing the play would be close slid into the bag. The runner seeing he was out and rather than take a chance of making the play appear close and injuring the fielder hurdled both the base and fielder to avoid a mixup.

NATURE LOVES BRIGHT COLORS.

We see the truth of this statement in the varicolored flowers, the vivid sunsets, the birds of brilliant plumage. But we never see it exemplified more attractively than in the person of a splendidly healthy woman. How does nature paint this health? Why, in the rosy cheeks, the transparent skin, the smooth red lips of such a woman. And she molds it in firm flesh and rounded contours. The ailing woman is deficient in natural coloring, and she does not even appear to advantage in clothes that would set off her more attractive sister. Many women who long for glowing health will find that they, too, can have these charms if they will give a trial to that remedy which brings strength to frail women — Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
